ElJet Launches Completely Redesigned Website Utilizing the Latest HTML5 Technology

updated 2 hours 8 minutes ago

LOS ANGELES, CA— ElJet Aviation Services Inc. 500's fastest growing private jet charter company has launched its completely redesigned website.

The website is designed to provide an improved experience for new and existing clients. The site utilizes many of the latest HTML5 technologies and has an increased number of tools that will help private jet charter consumers make transparent and informed decisions about their charter purchases.

"HTML5 was a major component of the site design and we really feel that the product we have put out will be pleasing not only visually but our content is laid out in a way that will enable the user to focus on areas that are important to them," said Douglas Goddard, ElJet's Director of Technology.

Some key features of the new site are improved, and easier to access empty legs updated multiple times daily, video aircraft selection guide, updated charter pricing calculator, the revolutionary streamlined booking Charter Select program, expanded media section and a compilation of outstanding client testimonials.

"Many of our clients are business travelers who access our website via their smartphones. We wanted the site to be viewable through multiple platforms whether being accessed through Desktop, iPad or mobile devices. Utilizing HTML5 has really improved our user experience and has shown once again that we are a step ahead," said Ben Schusterman, President of ElJet.

About ElJet:

Founded in 2006 ElJet provides customers with top-notch customer service and incredible value. ElJet provides that value by utilizing empty leg (or "deadhead") flights whenever possible. Empty legs are flights that are booked only one way and return to the starting point empty. Empty legs have been an
