LOS ANGELES, CA--(Marketwire - 04/14/11) - ElJet Aviation Services Inc. 500's fastest growing private jet charter company has opened its Charter Select program to the charter consumer.

The program, which has been in testing has been developed in conjunction with ElJet's more frequent travelers and has seen incredible success. It is now available to the traveling public.

"Our business has seen tremendous growth as the recession educated charter consumers of the limitations and lack of value offered by Jet Cards and Fractional shares," said Ben Schusterman ElJet's President. "Our clients' biggest complaint about utilizing on-demand charter was that for last minute itineraries the hassle of completing paperwork for every trip was so tedious. I can't tell you the number of times we had client flights delayed due to a business meeting that ran late and by the time they got back to their hotel the business center was already closed. The Charter Select program solves this problem for good," said Schusterman.

How It Works:

Clients sign a blanket agreement which provides authorization for the client or client's representative to book charter on their behalf. Payment is still required in advance (for immediate itineraries by credit card for itineraries that are a few days out either by credit card or via wire transfer). Client is sent an itinerary, photos and pricing via email and can approve the flight with a simple email approval.

There are 3 tiers to the Charter Select Program, Basic, Premier and Authority. More information and the benefits of each tier can be compared at <http://www.ellejet.com/streamlined-booking.php>.

Value

"Clients of the program benefit not only by taking advantage of last minute empty leg deals. But also from the overall cost savings that on-demand charter provides," said Levi Leader Travel Portfolio Manager. "For people on the go this program is an incredible time saver this program is geared to them."

About ElJet

Founded in 2006, ElJet focuses on providing customers with top-notch customer service and incredible value for their money. ElJet provides that value by utilizing empty leg (or "deadhead") flights whenever possible. Its traditional charter business is also one of the largest in the industry. Empty legs are flights that are booked only one way and return to the starting point empty. Empty legs have been an industry headache since the creation of the aircraft charter industry -- ElJet has been relieving some of that pain, much to the delight of businesses and individuals requiring private jet service at a discount.

ElJet Charter Portfolio Managers are available 24/7 to assist with any private travel needs. Representatives can be reached at 888-355-3538 or by submitting a request at our newly redesigned website www.ellejet.com. ElJet successfully does business throughout the U.S., Europe and Asia.
